Carried by the Tide to Port Richmond, Where She Sank.

PORT RICHMOND, S. I., June 18 .-The stermboat Canonicus was burned to the water's edge this morning. The fire was discovered about 3 o'clock, as she lay at her dock in Starin's shipyard. lay at her dock in Starin's shipyard. Two engines, three hose car-Two engines, three hose car-riages and a hook and ladder fit in Park Row. Ever since then he has truck arrived very quickly, but there was no water in the yard, and there was not sufficient hose to bring water from the nearest hydrant, in

The only way to save the shippard buildings and the other steamboats and buildings and the other steamboats and vessels tied up near by was to cut the Canonicus loose. This was done, and the burning boat was taken out into the middle of the Kill Von Kull by the ebb tide. She drifted down as far as Livingstone station, sending up a mass of smoke and roaring flames. Then she drifted back to Port Richmond, where she sank in twenty-five feet of water after burning to the water line.

The origin of the fire is not yet known. There were three men aboard of the Canonicus as shipkeepers. It is suggested that a Saturday night's spree is the most probable cause.

39,138 TENEMENT HOUSES.

the Census Shows 1,832,773 People Live in Them.

The Board of Health Inspectors have cluded the tenement-house census for 1894. The work began two months

The total number of tenement-houses in the twenty-four wards of the city is $3,138, with a total population of 1,332-773, ah average of 3t to each house. Of this number 180,359 are under five years of age. There are 2,346 rear tenements, with a population of 55,229, 8,574 of this number being runder five years.

The Twelfth is the most densely populated ward, the number being 252,331.

President Wilson has forwarded the census in tabulated form, together with wome recommendations, to Richard Watson Gilder, Chairman of the new Tenement-House Commission appointed by the last Legislature.

Among other things he suggests that all rear tenements found to be in an unsanitary condition be-permanently vacated and that it be made compulsory upon the owners to place water in all tenement houses.
